General Skills

TECHNICAL
PASS	CONTROL	DRIBBLING WITH THE BALL
6	6	6
1v1	SHOOTING	TACKLE
5	5	5
INTERCEPTION	PROFILE	BALL PROTECTION
3	4	3
Shows good technical quality and composure in possession. Demonstrates clean ball control, secure passing execution, and good understanding of ball circulation in positional play. Comfortable combining in short spaces and capable of identifying interior passing lines between opponents. His decision-making in attacking situations is one of his strongest attributes, especially when selecting the correct moment to pass, combine, or progress play. Displays intelligence in movement and positioning, often finding spaces between lines to support continuity in possession. Technically, he performs confidently over short distances and shows creativity in offensive situations. In 1v1 situations, he relies more on timing, positioning, and technical quality than on physical dominance or explosiveness. Ball protection under strong pressure and physical duels remain areas for development, especially against older or physically stronger opponents.

TACTICAL
OCCUPATION OF SPACES	BALL CIRCULATION	BALL RECOVERY	ADAPTING TO THE PACE OF THE GAME
5	6	5	5
Shows a good understanding of offensive positioning and spatial occupation for his age. Reads the game well in possession phases, offering passing options and maintaining continuity in circulation through intelligent movement between lines. Adapts positively to combination play and demonstrates good awareness of when to accelerate or pause the game. His tactical understanding allows him to position himself correctly both offensively and during defensive transitions. Defensively, he shows willingness and concentration in tactical tasks, although physical intensity and duel situations can sometimes affect his effectiveness. Continued exposure to faster and more demanding environments will support his tactical growth and speed of adaptation.

PHYSICAL
DISPLACEMENTS	JUMPS	DISPUTES	ENDURANCE
5	4	4	4
Possesses good coordination and mobility for his current stage of development. His movement mechanics and agility allow him to perform well technically in dynamic situations. At the moment, the main developmental area is the physical component, particularly: strength, explosive speed, endurance and competitiveness in duels. Against physically stronger or older players, differences become noticeable especially in aerial challenges, shoulder-to-shoulder situations, and repeated high-intensity actions. This is considered a normal developmental process and should improve progressively with physical maturation and appropriate training exposure. Improving power and resistance will help him transfer his technical and tactical qualities more consistently into competitive match situations.

MENTAL
EMOTIONS	MOTIVATION	RESILIENCE
6	8	5
Demonstrates good concentration, composure, and understanding of coaching instructions during training sessions. He approaches tasks with maturity for his age and shows consistency, discipline, and willingness to learn in demanding environments. His football intelligence and decision-making are important strengths within his current stage of development, especially in possession and positional understanding. Continued exposure to competitive environments will help strengthen his confidence, resilience, and competitive personality further.

SOCIALS
INTEGRATION	LIDERSHIP	EMPATHY
6	5	6
Despite being exposed to a different football culture and an unfamiliar environment, Ayaansh adapted positively to the group dynamics throughout the experience. He integrated naturally with teammates and coaches, showing respect and positive behaviour during all sessions. Although naturally more reserved in his communication style, he contributed positively to the team atmosphere through his attitude, consistency, and openness to learning. Continued international exposure will help him progressively develop greater confidence, communication, and leadership within group environments.

Future Goals

STRENGTH	(Action plan)
Motivation / Love for the game	Ayaansh has shown an outstanding motivation and love for the game since he has been behaving as a regular player across all sessions. His determination is an asset to nurture and protect.
Technical capabilities	Ayaansh is capable to master the basic skills of the game at his current development stage. He needs to apply tactical sense to his skills.

IMPROVEMENT AREAS	(Action plan)
Tactical development	Ayaansh has the technical fundamentals and the learning capacity to absorb and improve tactically. He must develop all aspects of the game with and without the ball, understanding that there is no disconnection from one phase with the other.
Conditional development	We recommend to place him in environments where his football and conditional aspects are challenged. HE must gain endurance and strength applied to the football game.
Communication	As much as we understand and value his capacity to integrate himself in a different culture, we encourage him to continue and as gradually as possible, more communicate even more with the coach and his peers. Asking questions, sharing feelings will help him evolve, helping him grow in personality, leadership, and confidence on the field.
